PageTraffic, ranked among the best search engine marketing companies in India, has taken two big steps ahead toward expansion. The company has opened an office in London, its first in the UK. It has also moved to a bigger office in Chicago owing to the increasing business from the US. The company plans to open more offices across the world in the near future.

Announcing the opening of new offices, Mr. Navneet Kaushal, Founder and CEO of the company said, "This (opening of new offices) would help us establish a more prominent presence in these regions of the world. We are delighted at the amount of growth we experienced in the last couple of years, which has seen our client base expand rapidly. The new offices reflect our commitment to offering better services to our global clientele."

The new offices have come at a time when PageTraffic is expanding its team at a rapid pace to meet the demands of its growing client portfolio. In the last few months, the company has made significant additions to its SEO, SEM, PPC, Content and Web Development teams. The company has also beefed up its IT infrastructure and opened a branch office at Noida, India, to cater to its growth.

PageTraffic is known for comprehensive services that help companies attain solid Internet presence. With close to a decade of experience in running hundreds of successful campaigns, the company is on the path of setting new standards in the search marketing industry. It is the company's mission - increase clients' web traffic and sales while they focus on growing their core business. The company has rode on ethical work practice and client centric attitude for achieving continued success.

As Mr. Kaushal says, "We credit our success to our transparent way of work. It is our organic White Hat methodology that has delivered the results to our clients. Our innovative, integrated marketing approach is the perfect solution for companies across a broad spectrum of industries which are trying to distinguish themselves from the competition."

The company is buzzing with activity and excitement on the opening of new offices, which will surely raise the client servicing standards and open new opportunities for business growth.
